

2022 Early Childhood Policy Highlights

107th Nebraska Legislature | Second Session

Overview

The Nebraska Legislature adjourned sine die on April 20, ending this year's 60-day legislative session. Over the past four months, state senators debated and passed several historic measures. These included several recovery measures totaling over $1.4 billion in one-time funding from the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA), a tax package that will provide $3.4 billion in tax relief when fully implemented in 2027, a mid-biennium budget package that retains funding for early childhood program, and significant long-term investments in workforce retention and recruitment.

First Five Nebraska was fortunate to work with several senators this session on early childhood bills. Among those that passed into law was legislation recommending maternal depression screenings during perinatal care and well-child visits, $4 million in federal funding to expand or start child care programs in communities, increasing the child care subsidy reimbursement rate to the 75th percentile of the market rate survey, notifying the Department of Health and Human Services of alleged out-of-home child abuse or neglect by a licensed child care provider and allowing early childhood programs to participate in farm-to-school activities.

Interim Studies

Now that the legislative session is over, state senators will focus their efforts on interim studies. First Five Nebraska is working with senators on the following projects. Updates on these studies will be available on First Five Nebraska's website in the months ahead:

- LR266, introduced by Senator Day, will examine Nebraska's processes relating to investigation of reports of child abuse or neglect in licensed child care facilities.
- LR327, introduced by Senator Vargas, will study issues relating to severe maternal morbidity.
- LR367, introduced by Senator DeBoer, will examine home visitation for Nebraska families.
- LR378, introduced by Senator Day, will look at the process for determining the reimbursement rate for the child care subsidy program.
- LR415, introduced by Senator Jacobson, will study the lack of access to quality and affordable health insurance for Nebraska's early childhood workforce and potential solutions.

Elections and Term Limits

The Nebraska primary election is Tuesday, May 10. Individuals who advance from the primary will move on to the general election November 8. Multiple offices are up for election, including the Nebraska Governor, Nebraska Congressional delegates and state senators.

This legislative session there were eleven term-limited senators and two senators who will not seek re-election. First Five Nebraska would like to thank Senator Robert Hilkemann (District 4), Senator Steve Lathrop (District 12), Senator Brett Lindstrom (District 18), Senator John McCollister (District 20), Senator Mark Kolterman (District 24), Senator Matt Hansen (District 26), Senator Patty Pansing Brooks (District 28), Senator Curt Friesen (District 34), Senator Matt Williams (District 36), Senator Tim Gragert (District 40), Senator Adam Morfeld (District 46), and Senator John Stinner (District 48) for their service to Nebraska. We wish them the best of luck on their future adventures.

We also wish to note the untimely passing of Senator Rich Pahls (District 31), a dedicated and widely respected statesman who had previously served two terms as a state senator (2005-2013) before being re-elected to the Legislature in 2020. His leadership in the Unicameral will be deeply missed by his constituents and colleagues. A special election will be held in November to fill the District 31 seat.

The tentative first day of the 108th Nebraska Legislature is January 23, 2023. As always, First Five Nebraska looks forward to working with current and new state senators to develop fiscally responsible policies to promote quality early learning experiences for our state's youngest children.
